Day 5

Please stand for the singing of O Canada (please pick one)

The Simcoe County District School Board acknowledges that we are situated on the traditional land of the Anishnaabeg people. We acknowledge the enduring presence of First Nations, Metis and Inuit people on this land and are committed to moving forward in the spirit of reconciliation and respect. Stayner is part of Treaty 18. Nottawasaga Purchase, signed on October 17, 1818.

School Oath

Today I have an obligation.

No longer will I be silent if you need help.

Silence is participation.

I refuse to participate in the problem.

We are all different, but we all deserve respect.

If you need help, come to me.

If I think you need help, I'm getting involved.

I've got your back.

Inspector Baltej Singh Dhillon

Baltej Singh Dhillon was born in Malaysia in 1966 and immigrated to Canada in 1982.

When Baltej Singh Dhillon was accepted into the RCMP, he had to find a way to reconcile his sense of duty to Canada with his religion. At the time, service in the RCMP required a clean-shaven face and wearing the historic uniform, including the issued headgear. As a Sikh, Dhillon's religious obligation required having a beard and wearing a turban. He chose to fight for his religious rights, which sparked a debate across the country. Some contended that tradition was being sacrificed, while others argued that the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, in granting freedom of religion as well as the right to equality, disallows discrimination based on religion. On March 15, 1990, the federal government removed the ban on turbans. Following graduation from RCMP training, Dhillon went on to enjoy a long career in the RCMP. His first posting as a Constable was with a small RCMP detachment in Quesnel, BC. He later worked in Surrey as a specialist in interrogation and polygraph testing, helping to investigate the 1985 Air India bombing. By 2016, he had risen to the rank of Inspector, and was in charge of the force's Operational Readiness and Response program.

Patrick Chan

Patrick Lewis Wai-Kuan Chan was born in Ottawa on December 31, 1990. Patrick is a Canadian figure skater of Chinese heritage, and an Olympic gold and silver medalist. He is the 2018 Olympic gold medalist in the team event, the 2014 Olympic silver medalist in the men's and team events, a three-time World Champion (2011–2013), a two-time Grand Prix Final Champion (2010, 2011), a three-time Four Continents Champion (2009, 2012, 2016), and a ten-time Canadian National Champion (2008–2014, 2016–2017). In 2011, Chan was named the recipient of the prestigious Lou Marsh Award as Canada's top athlete, for setting three world records. Off the ice, he has also received numerous awards and recognitions. In 2007, he won the Chinese Canadian Youth of the Year award, and in 2008 he was named Asian of the Year in arts and sports by Asia Network magazine in 2008.

RECESS REMINDERS FROM THE OFFICE...

Some important recess reminders for our Wolfpack...

You can play with friends in ways that are safe and fun. That means you can keep your hands and feet to yourself.

You can be creative with games you play and remember to keep them fair and inclusive.

When we do this we can all have a fun recess where everyone feels safe and respected.

Work together because #We'veGotYourBack

RECESS REMINDERS FROM THE OFFICE...

Now with the warmer weather here, we remind our Wolfpack that there is NO food outside when you arrive or during the recess breaks as we have many allergies and food attracts the bees.

Thanks for all your help with this!

KINDNESS CLUB

There will be a Kindness Club meeting today at second break.

Bring your lunch and ready to go outside for recess.
